

WOMAN NOW IN PERFECT HEALTH

What Came From Reading a Pinkham Advertisement.

Paterson, N. J.—"I thank you for the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies as they have made me well and healthy. Some time ago I felt so run down, had pains in my back and side, was very irregular, tired, nervous, had such bad dreams, did not feel like eating and had short breath. I read your advertisement in the newspapers and decided to try a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It worked from the first bottle, so I took a second and a third, also a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Purifier, and now I am just as well as any other woman. I advise every woman, single or married, who is troubled with any of the above-said ailments, to try your wonderful Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier and I am sure they will help her to get rid of her troubles as they did me."—Mrs. ELISE J. VAN DER SANDE, 36 No. York St., Paterson, N. J.

HER WORK NOT APPRECIATED

Cook Thought Efforts Wasted Because Master Was Not Laid Up Periodically From Overeating.

A lady had a cook who gave her every satisfaction, and she was under the impression that the cook was equally satisfied with her place. But one morning, to the lady's intense surprise, the cook told her she was going away. "Whatever do you want to leave for, Jane?" asked her mistress. "I am very pleased with you, and I thought you were quite comfortable here." "Yes, mum, I'm comfortable enough in a way, but—" The cook hesitated and sidged about. "But what?" queried her mistress. "Well, mum," she blurted out, "the fact is, master doesn't seem to appreciate my cookery, and I can't stop in a place where my efforts to please are wasted; so I'd rather go, mum." "But what makes you think that your master doesn't appreciate your cookery? Has he ever complained to you?" asked the lady. "No, mum; but my last master was always being laid up through overeating—he said he couldn't help doing so, because his cookery was so delicious; but master here hasn't been laid up once all the three months I've been with you, and that's just what bothers me so, mum!"

The Situation.
"How are you making out with your chicken farming?"
"I find it hard scratching."

TRIP THROUGH PANORAMIC CRYSTAL PARK

REMARKABLE AUTO ROAD IN COLORADO.

The Crystal park auto road from Colorado Springs and Manitou is one of the most remarkable mountain roads in the West. The road was blasted out of the solid rock along the mountainside. The trip is entirely through extremely rugged country, with a panoramic view of mountains and plains. The building of the road was no mean engineering feat. The road resembles a ribbon, tossed haphazard over the hills. It offers a wonderful view of the mountains and plains in the entire Pike's Peak region.

MOTOR CAR SPRING

Full Elliptics, Semi-Elliptics and Cantilevers Meet Varied Favor.

INVENTION IS CENTURY OLD

Leaf Steel Devices Hold Their Own, Although Time and Again New Arrangements Have Been Introduced.

Progress in automobile construction has each year been accompanied by improvements in springs. In fact, few parts that contribute to the user's comfort have been so fully and so far improved as have the springs. We naturally expect improvements in devices that are comparatively new, like the pneumatic tires, but remembering that leaf-steel springs were invented a century ago, we are inclined to assume them to be practically perfect and to look for very little change in them. As first applied they were far too short for comfort. Makers attempted to apply the lengths and widths used on horse-drawn vehicles, and simply added thickness to carry the heavier weight of the power vehicle. That this was not satisfactory could have been foretold, and every year since has seen a bettering of these necessary articles.

Semi-Elliptic in Favor. The full elliptics at first used gave way to semi-elliptics, which carried the load lower and better resisted the side swaying of the body, which tended to throw a change on driving mechanism out of alignment. These advantages have not been superseded, and still hold the semi-elliptic in growing favor today.

Time and again new springs or new arrangements are introduced, but through them all the old standby holds its own. It is a most simple form, and if the same number of pounds or inches of steel employed in other forms is used in it there will be no complaint about the service.

Three-Quarter Platform. The three-quarter platform adds to the rear ends of a pair of semi-elliptics a mate placed crossways, and attached to the body at its upcurved center. This gets added spring length without extending the body further to the rear, but it has not found much favor.

More was expected from the cantilever, and it still has strong advocates, but it has not been adopted with that rush which seemed probable a couple of years ago. The cantilever is a semi-elliptic turned over and resting one end on the car axle instead of resting its middle thereon as does the semi-elliptic. Because of this peculiar mounting it has nearly twice the spring motion possible in a semi-elliptic of the same length, but also requires to be about twice as thick. Each year the public is gaining the knowledge that every car can be properly sprung, and that a well-sprung light car rides more comfortably than a less efficiently sprung heavy car, and, consequently, they are demanding and getting better spring values each year.

Trick for Oiling Springs. Application of Kerosene and Then Followed by Lubricant Will Answer Purpose Fairly Well.

An emergency trick for oiling a spring is to go over it with kerosene, wiping off the dirt as you do so, and guiding the kerosene down the sides so it will run in between the leaves. Wipe off the surplus. Pour oil over them the same way. It is led in by kerosene and oils the leaves very effectively. Now rock the car or jounce the running board and your springs will be fairly well oiled. The best way to oil a spring, however, is to remove it and take it apart, scraping or filing off all rust and covering both sides with graphite, grease or oil. This is troublesome, but is the best in the end.

USE KEROSENE OR GASOLINE

Cleveland Perfects Carburetor for Internal Combustion Engines—Offered for War Use.

A carburetor for internal combustion engines which uses either kerosene or gasoline for fuel has been perfected by a Cleveland, who has just offered his patents to the government for war use.

The carburetor is said to be attachable to any motor and to start almost instantly in any temperature. The kerosene is converted into vapor by means of a small electrical resistance wire and a fibrous material which absorbs the oil. The moment the engine is turned the spark ignites the gas in the central chamber, filling it with a continuous flame. The oil is then sprayed into this flame, vaporizing it as it passes through. This producer flame is checked by a baffle plate.

By turning off the electric current, the carburetor is used for gasoline.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

PLAN TO KEEP HANDS CLEAN

Simple Method Described Herewith Is Better and Cheaper Than Using Expensive Oil.

It is impossible to keep the hands clean when making repairs on the machine.

A simple and economical way in which to cleanse them is as follows: Mix a quantity of sawdust and lubricating oil together and rub thoroughly into the pores of the skin.

The oil should then be removed by wiping the hands with a cloth which has been saturated with a little gasoline or kerosene.

This should be followed by the ordinary wash with soap and water. It is poor practice to attempt to remove the dirt from the hands by bathing them in gasoline, as this will cause some of the matter to become deeply imbedded in the skin.

ATTENTION TO SPARE WHEEL

If So Desired It May Be Covered Completely With Cover and Locked in Proper Place.

Thieves, dust, rain, and the weather generally are enemies to the well-being of your spare wire wheel. You may now, if you desire, cover it completely with a carrier which locks on. This consists of a flexible cover for the tire and a pair of convex plates between which cover, tire, and wheel are clamped by the nut on the supporting spindle. Removing the nut releases the end plate and the wheel.

PUT OIL IN GASOLINE TANK

Particularly Efficacious for Limbering Up New Motor—Better Service Also Secured.

An automobile dealer says that anyone who wants to have a fine running motor should put a couple of quarts of light or medium lubricating oil in with every ten gallons of gasoline pumped into the tank. This is particularly efficacious, he says, in the case of a new motor. It will be limbered up in considerably less time and will give better service thereafter.

Naturally. A vender of the new "barrel" skirt was extolling his wares in presence of a customer's husband. "No lady should be without one of these skirts," said the shopman. "Well, of course not," dryly responded the husband, who was something of a wag; "she should be within it."

YES! MAGICALLY! CORNS LIFT OUT WITH FINGERS

You say to the drug store man, "Give me a small bottle of freezone." This will cost very little but will positively remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet.

A few drops of this new ether compound applied directly upon a tender, aching corn relieves the soreness instantly, and soon the entire corn or callus, root and all, dries up and can be lifted off with the fingers.

This new way to rid one's feet of corns was introduced by a Cincinnati man, who says that freezone dries in a moment, and simply shrivels up the corn or callus without irritating the surrounding skin.

If your druggist hasn't any freezone tell him to order a small bottle from his wholesale drug house for you.—adv.

Women have a peculiar knack of picking up goods that will wash, but they usually get children that won't.

Fletcher's Castoria is nothing new. We are not asking you to try an experiment. We just want to impress upon you the importance of buying Fletcher's.

Your physician will tell you this, as he knows there are a number of imitations on the market, and he is particularly interested in the welfare of your baby.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of Charles H. Fletcher.

Couldn't Hear His Heart.

Draft matters have been under discussion everywhere and the customary question of "How are you?" can be answered explicitly by thousands of men, who up to a few weeks ago, had lived in indifference or doubt regarding their actual health condition. In Herald square a husky-looking driver's helper stood leaning idly against one of the rear stanchions of the truck. "How did you make out, Tim?" called the driver of the second truck which drew up. "Aw, no good," answered the helper. "They listened to me and said I had heart mother, or something. I ain't got no heart mother. If a guy can't hear his own heart who the deuce kin? I never had no mother."—New York Times.
